YOU WOMEN Who Know Values

—should come and inspect the goods listed below—you will do yourself a big favor by doing so because they are really uncommon values that will save you money. It's not possible in an advertisement to make you fully realize their importance to you. You must see the goods themselves. If you know values, you will appreciate the value-giving power of this store.

Specials for Saturday and Monday

STORM DAMAGE AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, Oct. 24.—A white woman and her two months' old babe and seven negroes lost their lives and thirty-eight persons were injured, none seriously, in a tornado that swept over southern Louisiana early Thursday. Cane crops were razed, dwellings and fences demolished and other damage was visited upon plantations southwest of this city.

The hurricane swept over Energy plantation, near Thibodeaux, La., where Mrs. Valize Borne and her two months' old baby were killed, together with two negroes. The negro quarters were demolished on this plantation, resulting in injury to eleven negroes.

Cutting a clean path 500 feet wide, the tornado tore through the Ellington plantation at Lula, La., demolishing the negro quarters, killing five persons and maiming several others, including a white woman and man.

The houses were of wood and the inmates were caught beneath falling timbers.

The storm came shortly before daylight and the terrified negroes were caught in their shacks unable to seek shelter because of a terrific downpour of rain driven before an excessively high wind.

Wire communication with several cities in southwestern Louisiana was cut off and it was late in the afternoon before the range of the storm and extent of the damage was known. It is believed the tornado spent itself in

NAZARENE ASSEMBLY

The Nazarene Assembly has been very busy today transacting the routine business of the church. A very important action was taken in voting to divide the state into two districts. The main line of the Santa Fe railroad is the line to Oklahoma City. From there it follows the Katy to Arkansas river, thence west up the river to the Kansas line.

Bethany, the headquarters of the rescue work of the church, some eight miles from Oklahoma City, was selected as the next meeting place for the Assembly, but in view of the division, it will necessarily follow that one meeting will be held elsewhere.

This morning was devoted hearing reports of pastors. At 3 o'clock this afternoon a rescue anniversary was held, Mrs. Jernigan leading.

The election of district superintendent was to have been held this afternoon at 2 o'clock but after the decision to divide the state into two districts, it was postponed for the time being.

This evening an educational rally will be held, the principal feature of which will be a lecture by Rev. E. J. Lord.

The sermon of Thursday evening by Rev. J. T. Upchurch was pronounced very strong and impressive. The church building was crowded to its utmost capacity.

NEW BANK OPENED FOR BUSINESS

The Francis National bank opened for business Thursday. O. S. Rose, formerly with the First National bank of Allen, is the cashier of the new institution and Dr. S. M. Richey president. This gives Francis two strong banks with capital ample to meet any demand by the public.

Mrs. C. A. Galbraith arrived this morning on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. H. Ebey, and Ada friends. The Judge is expected to arrive on the evening train.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.
We kindly ask that our advertisers bring in their changes of copy not later than 12 o'clock. We cannot insure change of ads where they come in later than this hour, because to do so throws the paper late in coming out, which we desire to avoid at all times.

Our Want Ads work day and night.

Now that Sulzer has been relegated to the junk pile Harry Thaw is getting back on the front page again.

The next thing the citizens of Ada might do well to go after is the Asher branch of the Rock Island. With the constitutional obstructions removed there is no reason why that proposition could not be put through. Four railroads would look mighty good.

By way of showing his peaceful intentions, General Felix Diaz proclaimed that he had returned to Mexico without ambition to become president. If he does not live up to this profession the chances are that he will soon go the way of Madero.

The McAlester News-Capital calls attention to the fact that when the governor announced his official party to the Dry Farming Congress at Tulsa, the names of Judge Doyle and J. Harve Maxey were conspicuous for their absence from the list. Perhaps the omission was due to an error on the part of the printer.

BULLETINS ON DEBATING TO BE FREE OF CHARGE

Norman, Okla., Oct. 24.-(Special.)—After a conference of the Extension Division with President Brooks, of the University of Oklahoma, it was decided that all debate bulletins issued by that division would be distributed free of charge to any debating club in the state. The appropriation for this work, is very small but Dr. Scroggs announces that the work will be done thoroughly where anything at all is done, and that the material on the issues that are now confronting Oklahoma cannot be made for it.

The department is now printing a "Manual on the Organization of a Debating Club, on Argumentation, and on the Judging of a Debate." The book is a reprint from the one issued by the University of Wisconsin. It may be secured by any one desiring it for ten cents. A complimentary copy is being sent to every debating club which requests it.

GREAT POWER PLANT COMPLETED

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 24.—The great Brady power plant on the Tennessee river, one of the biggest engineering projects yet undertaken in the South, is completed and ready for opening. The plant will furnish electric power sufficient for many years to come. The maximum horsepower which will be developed will be 56,000. The plant is located about 12 miles from Chattanooga. Two of the principal features of the plant are a dam nearly 1,500 feet long and a lock 300 feet long and 60 feet wide inside the gates. The power house is on the river bank below the concrete and earth embankment which forms an extension of the dam.

TEXAS TO VOTE ON SUFFRAGE QUESTION

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 23.—At the convention of the Texas Equal Suffrage association held at the state fair Thursday it was announced that resort would be had to provisions of the election law to bring about a vote of the state upon the votes for women question. The law provides that if 10 per cent of the democrats shall petition for it the democratic state executive committee shall submit any proposition to a vote in the democratic primary election, and it is the custom of the legislature to comply with any demand thus made through a primary. The next democratic primary election will be held in July, 1914.

Miss Kate Gordon of New Orleans and Mrs. W. E. Spell of Waco, the latter vice president of the Texas association, were the principal speakers at today's meeting. Without naming Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Spell declared that the Texas suffragists were not militant and did not approve of militant methods.

HAIR DOESN'T DIE— IT HAS TO BE KILLED

Hair often continues to live and grow long after the death of the body. But it is often killed through neglect or misuse. Almost always the woman or man whose hair is falling out, or is stringy, lifeless and dull-looking, is entirely to blame because of not giving it the proper care. It is easy to take care of the hair—easy to make it more beautiful. Use Harmony Hair Beautifier, to make it glossy, soft and silky, and Harmony Shampoo to keep hair and scalp thoroughly clean.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightfully perfumed with true rose, is very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, giving an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, and leaves no harshness or sticking—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Main St., Ada, Ok. ## HOW TO MAKE BUTTONS STAY ON IN THE WASH

In the "Exchange" department of the Woman's Home Companion, a department devoted to household news, an Iowa woman tells, as follows, how to make buttons stay on in the wash: "At last I have found a way to prevent the laundress from tearing buttons from underwear. I button all garments up securely and turn them wrong side out and tell her not to turn them. They come clean as easily as before, and I haven't lost a button from the wringer since I tried it. This is an amicable adjustment of a long standing source of friction."

YELLOWSTONE TRAIL CONVENTION

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24.—Plans for the completion of an improved highway from Minneapolis to the Yellowstone National Park, following the route of the old Yellowstone trail, were discussed here today at an interstate convention of good roads advocates and representatives of automobile clubs. A large part of the improvement work has already been completed. The plans now formulated provide for the construction of a new bridge across the Missouri river near the North Dakota line.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been Eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. (Adv.)

Origin of Term "Dean"

The word dean, as applied to the dean of the diplomatic corps, or dean of a faculty, was derived from the Latin decem, ten, and its original sense was a chief of ten; an early dictionary defines it as "an ecclesiastical magistrate who hath power over ten canons at the least." Gradually it came to mean the head of any organized body, the oldest in service.

Blue Monday.

In Bavaria and some other parts of Europe the Monday before Lent was at one time known as Blue Monday. The churches were decorated with blue, and the day was kept as a holiday by classes whose ordinary avocation required them to labor on Sunday. As this led to violent disturbances the custom was legally abolished.

Death Rate.

A bulletin issued by the New York board of health shows that the death rate among married men is much lower than that among single men. From twenty to thirty the death rate among the married is 4.2, while among the bachelors it is 6.6. From thirty to forty the rate is, the married, about 3; the single, nearly 13. From forty to fifty the rate among the married is 9.5; among the single, 19.5.

On one of the Canary islands there is a tree which disperses from its branches actual rain to such an extent that a cistern placed at its base is never unfilled. Mrs. Eke—"If I had a husband who drank as hard as yours I'd make him buy a plaster and stick it over his mouth." Mrs. Wye—"That wouldn't do any good; he'd buy a porous plaster."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Learn to Forbear.

To forbear is to forget every night the little vexations of the past day; to say every morning: "Today I shall be braver and calmer than yesterday." Forbearance even sometimes leads us to detect in ourselves a little want of good nature, condescension and charity.—Selected.

Tiny Golf Course.

The smallest golf course in Great Britain is probably that on May Island, at the mouth of the Firth of Forth, the sole occupants of which are the keepers of the lighthouse. The island is a mile long and two and a half furlongs broad.

Original Research.

Methuseleh was in good humor. "A young newspaper man called on me today," he said, "and asked to what I attributed my long life. I told him I answered the same question 500 years ago, and advised him to look up the files of his paper."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fuzzled the Youngster.

The town visitor to the country lake appeared in a bathing suit charming but abbreviated. "Haven't you gone into long dresses yet, Miss Annie?" asked a wondering youngster on the shore.

Earliest Nails Were of Bronze.

Nails of the earliest nations were of bronze. The nail used by Jael in killing Sisera was a wooden tent pin. Up to the nineteenth century nails were mostly forged, the first cut nails being made by Jeremiah Wilson in Rhode Island in 1776.

REMEMBER!

when you cook or bake with electricity, you get an even temperature such as cannot be secured with any other method. It is quick, odorless, no smoke, no dust, simply press the button and in a few seconds you can place your biscuit, bread, cake or pies in your oven. They will bake quicker, more thoroughly and will taste better if baked by electricity. This is only one of the many conveniences of electricity. Electricity is not a luxury—it is false economy to be without it.

OK. CEMENT EXHIBIT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

T. P. Holt, who returned from Tulsa today, was much pleased with the exhibit of the Oklahoma Portland Cement Co. He pronounces it the best thing there and says T. O. Cullins, who is in charge is doing full justice to it. It is the center of interest for large crowds all the time.

The exhibit consists of a model farm in which the buildings, fence posts and everything else where concrete can be used is the material for construction. The farm is made more real by having some growing corn and other things within the enclosure.

CALL MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB

President Wilson has issued a call for a special meeting of the commercial club this evening. It will be held at the city hall at 7:30, and it is urged that all make a special effort to be on hand promptly at that hour, as it is desired to make short work of the business in hand and adjourn.

The principal thing to be considered is the proposition to establish a glove factory here. The action of the club this evening will probably decide the matter definitely.

OTIS WEAVER'S CONDITION

Word from Shawnee this morning was to the effect that Otis Weaver spent rather a bad night and is suffering considerably.

In the operation the surgeons not only removed the appendix, but also opened six small pus sacs and inserted a drainage tube. His mother arrived this morning and will remain during the critical stages of his illness.

Loss of Appetite.

Is the first signal of disorder and decay. The usual loss of appetite is often caused by functional disturbances in the stomach. The stomach fails to do the work required, the appetite is gone, and the body suffers from lack of nourishment. Such a stomach needs to be cleaned and sweetened. Meritol Tonic Digestive is made especially to assist the stomach to digest food, and promote a healthy appetite. This remedy is sold on our positive guarantee, and we ask you to give it a trial. It is a genuine tonic. Ramsey Drug Co., Sole Agents.

TO REDEDICATE CONGRESS HALL

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24.—The rededication tomorrow of Congress Hall, one of the most historic structures in Philadelphia, is to be made the occasion of a great patriotic demonstration. Recently the building has been restored to appear as it did when Congress held its sessions there during the latter years of the eighteenth century. President Wilson and several members of his cabinet, together with the governors or other official representatives of the literary exercises there will be a big military and civic parade and the firing of a national salute by a squadron of warships stationed in the Delaware river opposite the city.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Female is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves is their future status as a grandmother. And she is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, always all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and thus destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.

There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised.

This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 132 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

WHY 7000 DRUGGISTS

Guarantee and Recommend Vinol. If any one should know the value of a medicine it is the retail druggist who sells it.

Therefore, when over seven thousand of the best retail druggists in the country recommend Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the greatest tonic reconstructor and strength creator they have ever sold, it must indicate the value of Vinol.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:

J. C. Brady, druggist of Fall River, Mass., says: "In cases where cod liver oil emulsions and other tonics fail, Vinol will heal, strengthen and cure."

C. A. Potterfield, druggist of Charleston, W. Va., says: "It is a pleasure to sell Vinol as it gives such universal satisfaction."

Hunter & McGee, druggists of Jackson, Miss., say: "We have great confidence in the strength creating and curative value of Vinol."

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person or any person suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Ada, Okla.

P. S. For itching, burning skin try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

COMMISSION STUDIES COOPERATION IN HUNGARY

Totmeger, Hungary, July 1.—Members of the American Commission on agricultural co-operation were entertained here today in true Hungarian peasant style. This is a town of 3,610 inhabitants and the visit gave the Americans an opportunity to see the Hungarian country folk upon their own hearths.

The commission was first welcomed in the People's House, a sort of town hall erected through co-operative effort. In the vestibule of the hall stood a line of twenty Hungarian peasant girls, evidently chosen for their complexions. As the Americans entered a hearty shout of welcome in Hungarian was heard and the American women were led to the receiving line. Every peasant girl bowed to kiss the hands of the elder American women and made a quaint curtsy to the younger ones. The Americans were then taken to a big hall where they were welcomed in Hungarian speeches by the village priest, Father Charles Simko, the estate physician, Dr. Jaksics, and the town judge. These three men are the most important men of the community.

Three times while the speeches were proceeding the gypsy band in the courtyard below had broken out in music and had to be stopped. It was evidently hard work for them to restrain themselves, for the moment that a hand was raised to tell them that their part of the performance could begin, they broke out in tumultuous melody. Then the peasant girls in their brilliant native attire began the dances of rural Hungary. These are wonderful dances possible only for a dance loving people. There was a luncheon served in the open with huge mugs of beer and the favorite cold meats of the country. The peasant girls were the waitresses and great was the popularity of those members of the commission who could master enough German or French to translate for their fellow Americans a request to the pretty country maids.

After luncheon dancing was begun again and this time the Americans were invited to try their skill. The effort was not very successful but the gypsy band was found able to improvise a form of "Everybody's Doin' It" and so a turkey trot exhibition was changed for the dance of the peasants. Cameras were produced and a chapter of pretty faces added to the record of the commission.

When the fun was over a study was made of the life of the village. Certainly it was studied with more appreciation than it could have been done before the village party. The houses of the peasants were opened, not to curious busybodies, but to friends who had come to a party. The houses were comparatively large and scrupulously clean. Age darkened and carved wood furniture and beams were the chief decoration.

Most of the country about Totmeger is the property of Count Karolyi. In 1896 a farmers' association was formed which movement assumed a practical form in 1900 when a co-operative distributive society was organized. This society operates a butcher shop, a sausage shop, and a bakery. The commission were fed with the products of the society at luncheon and their quality was beyond criticism. The co-operative credit society was formed in 1902 and in 1912 handled $25,200. It has 368 members and a capital of $4,520. Its deposits now amount to $18,400, and its reserve to a little over $1,000. The affairs of the co-operative societies

10 Stop Scaling of Psoriasis

This Troublesome Skin Disease Promptly Checked by a very Simple Attention.

Classed with eczema, psoriasis has been considered one of the most obstinate of skin diseases.

A lady in Lexington, Ky., says that before she began using S. S. S. the disease broke out at frequent intervals where she thought it cured. But by getting her blood under control by the influence of S. S. S. psoriasis entirely disappeared and there was never again the slightest sign of it.

Like nearly all skin diseases, psoriasis is primarily due to impaired blood. The skin is but a network of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 132 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

and of the farmers' association are carried on in the People's House, which was given to the villagers by Countess Karolyi. In the winter evenings entertainments are given in the big hall of the People's House and a library of 600 volumes is maintained. There are also two bowling alleys and a tennis ground.

The co-operative movement in Hungary is probably more social than economic, or rather it is an attempt to accomplish a social task through economic means. The village of Totmeger offers a wonderful example of what the movement may accomplish. The boys of this village, it is said, have no desire to leave for the towns. They are content to marry the girls of the village and to stick to their farms. Apparently through co-operation, in its broadest sense, which means a thoroughly developed community life, the problem of rural life has been solved in Totmeger.

BALKAN ALLIES FIGHT- ING ONE ANOTHER

Belgrade, Serbia, June 30.—The Bulgarians today opened an attack on the Serbian troops along the whole line in Macedonia, according to dispatches from the Serbian headquarters.

The publication of the news created intense excitement in the Serbian camp.

According to a later message the Bulgarians also attacked the Greek troops along their whole front. Large masses of troops participated in the hard fighting.

The Bulgarian troops opened their attack at 2 o'clock this morning on the Serbian advanced posts before Istip and a couple of hours later their artillery was brought into action.

The Bulgarian attack gradually spread until there was fighting at Retna, Boukva, Zletovo, Neogasi and Valandovo.

The Serbian premier was addressing parliament in support of his policy of accepting arbitration offered by Russia when news of hostilities was sent in from the foreign office. Excitement in the house was so great that the sitting was suspended and the fate of the Pachitch cabinet remains undecided.

The Skin and not the Blood.

Until recently it has been a generally accepted theory that eczema was a disease of the blood. Scientific investigations have taught us that eczema is positively a skin disease and curable through the skin alone. Meritol Eczema Remedy is applied directly to the diseased skin, the effect is marvelous and its results permanent. Do not delay trying Meritol Eczema Remedy.

The Daughter of David Kerr

By Harry King Tootle

(Copyright, 1913, by A. G. McClary & Co.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Gloria Kerr, a motherless girl who has spent most of her life at Belmont, arrives at her father's home in Belmont. David Kerr is the political boss of the town and is anxious to prevent his daughter's learning of his real character.

CHAPTER II—Kendall, representing the Chicago packers, is negotiating with Judge Gilbert, Kerr's chief adviser, for a valuable franchise. They fear the opposition of Joe Wright, editor of the reform paper.

CHAPTER III—Kerr asks the assistance of Judge Gilbert in introducing Gloria to Belmont society and promises to help him put through the packers' franchise and let him have all the graft.

CHAPTER IV—Gloria meets Joe Wright at the Gilberts. It appears they are on intimate terms, having met previously in a touring party in Europe.

CHAPTER V—Gloria twists Wright on his failure to keep an engagement to meet her in Paris. He explains that the death of his mother prevented his going to Paris.

CHAPTER VI—The Gilberts invite Gloria to stay with them pending the furnishing of the Kerr home.

CHAPTER VII—One society bud who refused to meet Gloria is forced to do so when her father is made to feel Kerr's power.

CHAPTER VIII—Wright begins his fight against the proposed franchise in the columns of his paper, the Belmont News.

CHAPTER IX—Kerr, through his henchmen, exerts every influence to hamper Wright in the publication of his paper.

CHAPTER X—Gloria realizes she is not being received by the best society and is unhappy. She takes up settlement work.

CHAPTER XI—Kerr and his henchmen decide to buy Kerr's paper and ask the editor to meet them at Gilbert's office.

CHAPTER XII—Wright in his desire to keep from Gloria knowledge of her father's position, avoids her during the fight. Gloria is piqued.

CHAPTER XIII—Calling at Gilbert's office to solicit a donation Gloria meets Wright. He proposes and is accepted while waiting to be called into the conference.

CHAPTER XIV—Wright refuses to sell his paper and declares he will fight to a finish.

CHAPTER XV—The Belmont News appears with a bitter attack on Kerr. Gloria calls Wright coward and refuses to listen to any explanation from him.

CHAPTER XVI—Broken-hearted, Gloria decides to plunge more deeply into settlement work.

CHAPTER XVII—She calls on a sick girl of the underworld named Ella.

CHAPTER XVIII—She learns for the first time that her father is the head of a notorious gang of political grafters.

CHAPTER XIX—Sounds of a conflict are heard in the room over Ella's. Gloria finds Wright unconscious, a victim of an attempted assassination by thugs in the pay of the political ring. She hides him in Ella's room and defies the thugs.

CHAPTER XX—She awakes them by announcing that she is Kerr's daughter. Ella threatens to give up Wright to the thugs and is choked into unconsciousness by Gloria, who then falls unconscious on Wright's body.

CHAPTER XXI—They are rescued by Dr. Hayes and his wife. Wright is taken to a hospital and Gloria is taken to the Hayes home. Wright decides to sell his paper and leave Belmont.

"Let us not speak of like or dislike. All that is past. It is true I promised myself never to see you again, but since that day in Judge Gilbert's office events have shed such a new light on Belmont and on me that I feel some explanations are due you before you go away."

Quick as a flash he saw that she had learned the truth, or at least some part of it. With his characteristic generosity he wished to relieve her of the necessity of making explanations.

"I appreciate your coming, Miss Kerr, from the bottom of my heart I do, but if—anything you think you have to tell causes you pain, I'd rather far that what you wish to say should remain unspoken."

"That's generous of you, but I should find it harder to maintain silence—because I want to be just."

"Miss Kerr! There is no occasion for you to—"

"Please, please, don't interrupt me. It's hard enough as it is." A chair he had brought for Gloria she had refused, and now he sank into it himself, his head resting in his hands as he listened. "I have lived away from Belmont," she went on in an even, repressed monotone that cut him to the heart, "since I was a little girl, too young to understand, and I was brought up to believe that my father was—well, just the opposite of what he is. It was all a mistake, of course. It was no fault of mine, but I must suffer for it just the same. I had everything money could buy; and then you came—and—and I had love."

Her voice trembled for the instant. Wright could not stand it.

"Gloria!" he cried, seeking to stop her, but she went on again in the same impersonal manner, apparently unheeding his gesture for her to desist as much as she did the cry of pain that burst from her lips.

"But no one was really kind to me. I lived in a fool's Paradise. I did not know the truth." Then vehemently, losing control of herself: "Oh, why did you ever speak to me of love! You, of all men, to make my humiliation doubly great."

"Don't speak so, I beg of you," Wright commanded. "Can you believe that I have not suffered?"

She chose to ignore his question. "Oh, if I had never come home! If I had even not gone to Judge Gilbert's office that day! It was fate, Joe, it was fate. I can see it all now. We boast that we dominate circumstances, the gods laugh and are our masters still. Looking back the way we've come from that first night I met you here I can see that every step, relentless as death, was leading to that day when I learned the truth about my father."

"And you know?"

"Everything. That's why I'm here. It was really such a little time ago that I came back to Belmont, yet it seems ages. Oh, why didn't you go away! You must have seen how it had to end. Since I came home and first met you, I've lived and suffered and grown old. And I had dreamed such dreams!" Here she paused, as if to fight back the painful memories of those rainbow dreams. Then she admitted them. "And they became rosiest and rosiest—because of you. Even the disappointments my father's lack of polish caused me were nothing—because of you. Then you ceased to see me, and I didn't understand."

"I wanted you so very much—then—and you did not come. I know now what it was; the election was coming on, you had begun to fight my father. You knew I didn't realize his position in Belmont. I'm sincere. I want you to know I understand how hard it was for you, my friend—because—I believe you loved me—sincerely."

"Sincerely, Gloria." His reply was almost a sob. "You know I begged you to go away. I would have followed you, and you would never have known."

His last sentence was full of bitterness, an acknowledgment of the Never-Never Land whither all happiness had flown.

"That's true, but the gods laugh and are our masters still. I felt that I owed it to my father to remain with him in Belmont. Then came the day in Judge Gilbert's office. Did ever a girl have a courtship crowded into half an hour? So short a time there was between those few words of love and the rude awakening which followed that there remains to me now not even a sweet memory of that avowal which all girls cherish so. And then—well, that's why I've come today. I couldn't let you go away without asking you to forgive me for what I said in Judge Gilbert's office."

"There's no need of speaking of forgiveness. Please do not say any more."

She was not to be deterred from her set purpose, and therefore affected not to hear, going straight on with her narrative.

"You see, I was proud of my father. All my life he'd been an ideal, not a reality, and I thought him incapable of anything else. It turned out I was wrong—what I said about you."

"No, Gloria, you just didn't understand."

"But just the same, I was wrong, and wanted to tell you so before I went away. I knew I should not be here when you return, and so I came today."

"You're not going to leave Belmont!"

"Yes, I am. Do you think I could stay!" Her tone made Wright's heart sink. "No, I lack the courage, Joe, the moral courage. There's that much of the butterfly left in me. I'm not strong and brave like you are."

Gloria could not know how his strength and bravery were slipping from him little by little as they talked. Her very presence was weaving its subtle spell about him, snaring him with her was beauty, maddening him with the thought that he was losing her. So she was going away. He wondered why, speculating on how she had come to learn the truth. This led him to ask:

"But your father?"

Had Wright known what a piteous outburst this would evoke, he never would have spoken.

"My father! What am I to him? I haven't seen him from that day. Since then I've been with Mrs. Hayes. When I learned at luncheon that you were going away, I had to come because I can't forgive myself for what I said in Judge Gilbert's office that came near ending so—disastrously—for you."

"Please don't think of it," he begged. "I don't connect you in any manner with the attack on me."

"But I do," she insisted, "because I know the truth." Here was the whole reason for her coming, she told herself. "Since you're in this fight to stay—even though you're fighting my own father—I want you to have all the protection that knowledge of the truth will afford. I've come to warn you."

Wright saw that he had not made her understand that he was giving up the fight.

"But I'm going away."

"Yes, you've told me; but you're coming back again because you know your place is here. There's work to do."

He recognized instantly that it was her wish for him to remain. Her belief in him, such as it was, centered about his efforts to make Belmont a better place. Not wishing to explain what pain it would constantly give him were he to do so, he avoided the matter by referring to her own future.

"What are you going to do?"

"I? I'm going abroad in a few days."

"What does your father say to that?"

Gloria's lip curled with scorn at the question. Her answer came with the coldness of a woman of the world.

"He can't say anything. What is he to me? I haven't even sent him word yet. He gave me everything in the world, but then at the supremest moment of my life he robbed me of it all. Would a father do that?" she asked fiercely.

"What allegiance do I owe him. The claim of blood! Bah! He's always wished I'd been a boy. He didn't like me because he loved me. He didn't even know me. Do you think it wrenches my heart to leave him now? No; a thousand times no. We've lived too many years apart. What have we in sympathy? We'd be strangers though we lived under the same roof for years."

"But when you go abroad what are you going to do?" He could see no future for her.

"Just drift. There is so much that I want to forget."

"Much, Gloria?" he asked gently.

"Yes, much." She would not let him trap her into a damaging admission.

"Everything?"

"Everything painful."

Her attitude, he felt it was antagonistic, impatient even of his kindly questioning, stirred him to a vigorous reply. After all, she was but a child, and like a child wanted to shirk the lesson life was teaching her.

"Surely I've not been mistaken in you," he began. "It's by suffering that we learn to live. You've only come to see life as it is, that's all. Would you throw away the precious knowledge that is power for an Arcadian ignorance akin to weakness? You've just said that you've come to warn me of something. Were you true to your theory of life, you would leave me in ignorance, because the truth would give me pain. But you don't believe that."

From the depth of his world-scarred heart he pitied her. She was so young, and so rebellious. He yearned with a great longing to protect her.

"It's easy enough to talk and give advice," Gloria flung back at him. "What has suffering taught you?"

Here was a question he could answer, and answer decisively.

"It has taught me to be true to my better self." He spoke sternly. Then he regretted that he had seemed harsh with her, for it did not soften her, and she made no comment.

"Please sit down," he said. She accepted the proffered chair stiffly and waited. He had listened to her patiently, and she felt it only fair to hear what he had to say before she left him forever.

Wright came as close to her as he dared. As he spoke, she abandoned the rigid attitude she had felt constrained to assume and sank back in the big chair.

"Gloria, I didn't mean to be harsh just now. God knows I would spare you all you have been through could I have done so. Blot out this terrible week. Can't we go back to that headlong courtship crowded into half an hour? Let everything be as it was. Then I begged you to go away. Now, since you are going, let us go together. Listen, don't you remember?"

The sun is the flame of the desert. And you are the flame of my heart. Dearly indeed is the desert unburned. And dearly without you, my heart. "You know it's the truth, Gloria. Let us go together."

"Don't make it so hard for me, Joe dear," she begged. "When you kissed me I thought I knew my heart, but now nothing in the whole world will ever be the same again. You mustn't blame me; I still like you, more than ever, but in a different way. Can't you understand? You have told me I'm more than a shallow, frivolous girl. I honor you for the offer, Joe, but I wouldn't be true to that better self you talk about if I accepted."

"I make no offer, Gloria," he pleaded. "I'm begging you to love me, to become my wife."

She trembled visibly at his words. Yet her resolution was such that she was not shaken from her purpose. She did not dare look at him, however, as she answered:
